Incorporating Plex ERP into your business processes can deliver significant value to the company and to all of the people involved. In order to ensure your success, you should consider a comprehensive plan for educating all of the contributors who work with the system. Because Plex is such a central part of running your manufacturing business, it is critical that each organization learn as much as possible about how to use Plex to optimize their productivity as well as working with others throughout the organization.

An effective ERP training program is one of the most important elements of your Plex deployment. Education begins during the preparation phase but does not end at “go-live” of the system. The Plex system has both broad and deep capabilities that can be tailored to suit your business needs and with Plex’s continuous innovation model, it continues to improve with enhancements and new features released all the time. As your employees become more familiar with the fundamentals of using Plex, they should leverage additional education opportunities to learn more about how Plex can continue to add value.

All Access Pass

Plex’s All-Access Pass (AAP) offers you subscription-based access to our self-paced courses and Virtual Instructor-Led Training (VILT). AAP makes education services readily available to everyone in your company. As the name implies, subscription users have access to the entire online Education Services catalog that Plex has to offer.

Exclusive Additional Assets

With your All Access Pass, you have expanded access to the Plex Education Portal (PEP). PEP contains a continuously growing collection of training assets and other content to support and enhance your learning. From PEP, you can download and print course materials, take assessments, participate in polls, view on-demand content related to the course, and view previously recorded training sessions.

HOW IT WORKS

Your company may purchase batches of user licenses to accommodate your team's training needs. Each user is allowed to consume any available self-paced training as well as register for Virtual Instructor-Led Training (VILT). VILT attendees must be members of your subscription team and must pre-register for any courses they wish to attend. Class sizes are limited and seats are available on a first-come first-served basis.

Plex offers classes several times throughout the year. Check out the schedule in the Education Services space in the community or in PEP.

Please contact your Plex Sales representative for details on acquiring All Access Passes for your company.
