

Plex by the Numbers: Quality

Our Customers Talk About Quality from the Plex Manufacturing Cloud

The real cost of quality is the price you pay for not having it. That's what our automotive customers tell us. Check out the numbers they associate with quality in the Plex Manufacturing Cloud.

6

The number of countries in which Shape Corp. has more than 1,300 employees who use Plex.

"We chose Plex because it was a good fit for our business... Because of the complete data integration within the Plex Manufacturing Cloud, there is only one employee list which not only tracks human resource needs but also serves as a quality checklist for each employee."

Shape Corp., Global Roll Forming and Injection Molding Supplier

Percent improvement in monthly material cost discrepancies.

"At any one time, Kamco can house over $1 million in inventory...at the end of every month we sometimes had 20 percent discrepancies of unaccounted inventory...The automated operations now possible with Plex improve every part of our operations."

Percent improvement in accuracy.

“We saw a huge improvement...Raw materials and work-in-process inventory are down by more than 30 percent...Our first-pass quality has improved 15 to 20 percent...”

Wolverine Advanced Materials, Global Provider of Advanced Vibration Damping and Sealing Products

0

As in nada.

“Before...we’d typically find about a 5 percent variation between actual and recorded inventory. Since the launch of Plex...I can trace everything back to the second the raw materials arrived, without ever leaving my desk.”

Spring Dynamics, Inc., Manufacturer of Automotive Springs

Percent efficiency. It’s possible.

“The Plex system prevents us from working on a part unless everything is set up properly, the correct raw material components are present, and all our inspections are done...it’s a big reason why we are not making the mistakes of our competitors.”

ByTec Inc., Supplier of Electronic and Mechanical Assemblies

50

Percent less paperwork.

“Plex has allowed us to reduce our entire company’s paperwork by more than 50 percent...All data is stored on the Plex system, and we can access it at any time.”
