

THE PLEX SMART MANUFACTURING PLATFORM

PLEX EDUCATION SERVICES

PLEX EDUCATION SERVICES

The relationship between proper training and knowledge that comes from using a system is often understated. You have a diverse workforce with diverse learning styles. Delivering the right information to the right people is critical to harnessing the full potential of your investment. That means using best practices and knowledge that are actionable, providing new growth opportunities for your users, your business and most importantly, your customers.

Plex provides a robust training portfolio that provides just the right content to the right people along the entire customer journey. Whether you're self-implementing, working with our team or one of our partners, or learning more about your current platform, you will gain the knowledge you and your users need to become smart manufacturing experts and fans.

World Class Training

- Train online, at Plex or your location, in ways that are tailored to your budget and business goals.
- Gain role-based knowledge that's flexible to your needs.
- Stay up-to-date on new learning opportunities.
- Learn and leverage industry best practices.
- Learn from real-world experiences shared by our experts.

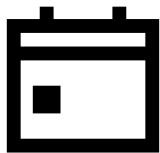

Three Ways to Learn

- All Access Pass – Subscription-based access to an extensive on-demand course library.
- Boot Camp – Immersive foundational training hosted in person or virtually.
- Custom Training – Tailored to your team and on your terms.

ALL ACCESS PASS

Because the Plex Smart Manufacturing Platform is such a critical part of running your business and its success, it is crucial that each of your departments are experts so their productivity is optimized.

An effective training program ensures that your organization harnesses the full power of the platform's constant innovation and the ability to tailor it to your business needs and growth, extending beyond kickoff with on-going value.

Annual Subscription

The subscription-based All-Access Pass (AAP) gives everyone in your company access to our entire self-paced course library for just one annual fee.

Exclusive Content and Features

With your All-Access Pass, you have expanded access to the Plex Education Portal (PEP) with a continuously growing collection of training assets and content to support and enhance your learning. From PEP, you can download and print course materials, take assessments, view on-demand content related to the course, and view previously recorded training sessions.

Role-Based Learning Plans

Pre-defined role-based learning plans covering best practices and functionality that turn you into a Plex expert.

ALL ACCESS PASS BENEFITS

Access all courses with one subscription rather than a course by course basis.

Access previously recorded live sessions from other Plex events like PowerPlex.

Educate more of your staff without travel expenses and schedule disruption.

With unlimited users, you can encourage continuous improvement in using Plex best practices beyond your initial deployment.

Accelerate time to value with a continually expanding library of interactive courses.

As a Power User, you can register new users, assign courses, and view valuable usage reports.

Practice and apply learning using course participant guides, step-by-step guides, and other assets.

Focus your team on the education most relevant to them with role-based learning paths.

PLEX EDUCATION SERVICES

PLEX BOOT CAMP

Plex Boot Camp provides an online or in-person opportunity to learn about the Plex Smart Manufacturing Platform.
